The Newsletter of Los Angeles Chapter, American Guild of Organists

The 2021-2022 Season
is About to Begin

Let's Get Started!

Dean's Message - Nelson Dodge

For many of you, summer is a break from the rhythm of the church year, teaching school, etc. Your Facebook posts show interesting and exotic parts of the world that you visit. Some of you pursue professional enrichment and study, others relaxation and time with family. We all have our preferred ways to rejuvenate.

And for some of you—namely Bill and Mary Lee Mistretta—summer is primetime for getting major projects accomplished. The impressive Southern California AGO Directory that lists the members of the eight chapters in the region has been getting produced like clockwork during the month of August for the past many years by the Mistrettas, aided by a collegial crew of volunteers who help ensure the accuracy at a final proofreading “party” before the Directory goes to print.

Thanks this year to proofing crew: Dr. Andrea Anderson, Nelson Dodge, Richard Kirtland, Mary Lee Mistretta, Manuel Rosales, Alice Rucker, Dr. Joseph Simms, David Wheatley and Mike Wilson.

Also, as newsletter editor, Bill does not take the summer off—and I very much appreciate the continuity in our chapter communications through this period when we typically are not getting together for chapter meetings and events.

However, not getting together has been the typical mode for the past year and a half. If things go according to plan, we will resume our regular format of in-person meetings when our 2021-22 program season starts in October. At least, that is the plan, subject to change by forces beyond our control.

All of our regular concert programs will be videoed for subsequent broadcast on YouTube and archived for ongoing viewing. The upside from the “great shutdown” is that we learned how to present our programs “virtually” and that this enables a greater number of our members (and many others) to engage with our programming. Although the chapter incurs additional expense to do this, the positive feedback we’ve received validates the value of continuing to make our programs available “virtually.”

We’re still in a somewhat dynamic environment relative to public gatherings and the level of restrictions that may apply. As we get closer to our scheduled events in October and beyond, please watch for announcements from the chapter via e-mail and on the website for up-to-the-minute details about our meeting and program plans and logistics.

Wishing each of you a safe and refreshing summer—whatever your pursuit. And really looking forward to being together again in October!

YEAR OF THE YOUNG ORGANIST

Investing in the Future
July 1, 2021–June 30, 2022

The AGO National Council is committed to membership recruitment, retention, and growth within our organization. During the Year of the Young Organist, July 1, 2021–June 30, 2022, any individual under the age of 30 can become a member or renew her/his membership for free as part of this program. Events and new initiatives will be held throughout the year.

Click here for more information.

As part of the Year of the Young Organist, the AGO is now accepting applications from host chapters that wish to partner with religious institutions to offer a one-year, gap-year (between college and graduate school) organ scholar internship. Click here for more information

The AGO Student Commissioning Project awards grants of $1,000 to four collaborative composer/organist pairs for the composition and performance of new works for the organ. Both composer and organist must be enrolled as full- or part-time students at a college, university, or conservatory. The 2021–2022 application is now available. The application deadline is September 30. Click here to learn more

Are you looking for a job or have a job to post? The AGO maintains the largest jobs board in the profession for organists, choral conductors, and music directors. AGO members can search jobs and/or create an online profile with a résumé to attract the attention of potential employers. Click here to begin.

LOS ANGELES CHAPTER

Look for
New Episodes
coming this Fall

Remember that moment when you were first captivated by an organ? When the sounds and sensations drew you in and piqued your curiosity? When you saw an organ console up close for the first time and was overwhelmed by its complexity? When you just knew you wanted to learn how to play one? We all have memories like this and stories to tell about them. In each episode of The LA AGO Podcast, host Thompson Howell speaks with a different member of the Los Angeles Chapter, and occasional special guests, about their own love affair with the organ and how that passion informs their particular involvement with the organ world today. It's not just about what you've done; it's about why you do what you do. Whether you're a church musician, a concert organist, a teacher, an organ builder or technician, a composer who writes for the organ or simply a fan of the organ and its music, you'll enjoy hearing the stories of people who are passionate about the organ at every level.

History of the Los Angeles Chapter

William Henderson, Contributor

“In the fall of 1905, I had a call from Dean Wilkins of St. Paul’s Cathedral in Los Angeles, who, with Gen. Chandler, the senior warden, had come East to look for the right sort of choir director.

The day after Christmas 1905, I left for California. . . and reached Los Angeles the last of that week.

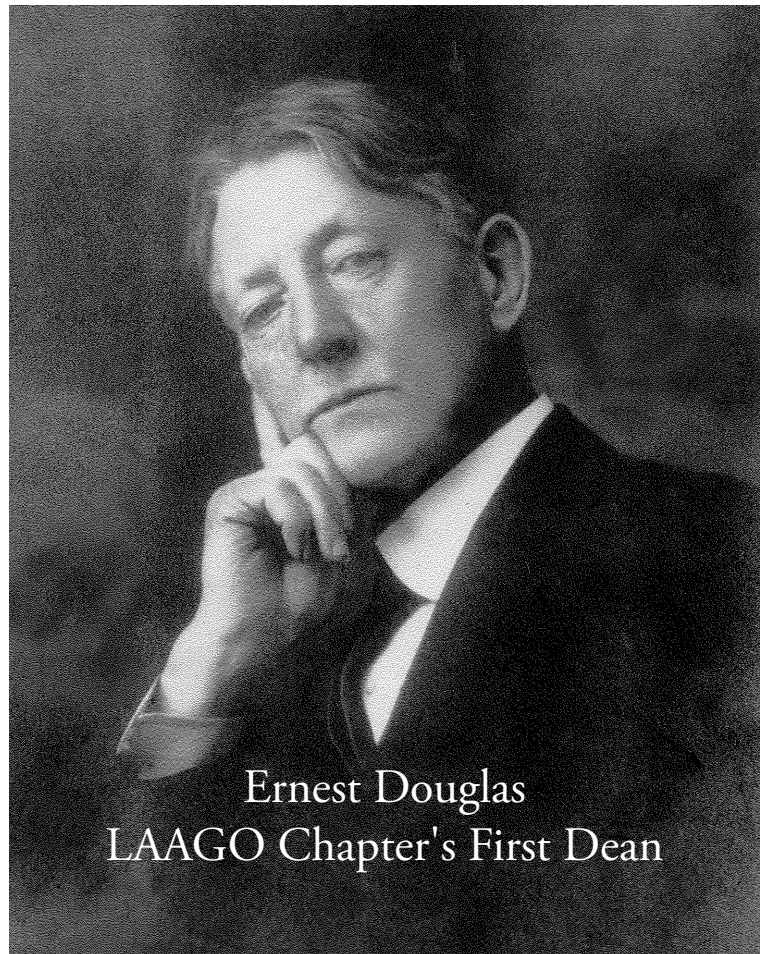

Taking up my work in Los Angeles, I decided to ask Five Dollars a lesson and, for one year, I never gave a lesson as the largest fee paid for lessons in the city was one and a half dollars.

My first choir camp was at Avalon, Catalina Island, where the boys had a royal time swimming, boating, and diving for the abalone shells. I am sure the boys as well as I will never forget those exciting outings. There was an organist’s association in Los Angeles formed by Walter Skeele that met once a month for merely social purposes to which I was invited. Shaul Hallett of Pasadena and I started a move to form a chapter and join the A. G. O.

The fall of 1910, Frank Wight, the Warden and Arthur Foote, a former Warden at Berkeley, came to our city, formed the chapter and held an examination resulted in passing two Fellows and four Associates.”

Mader Composition Competition 2021

by Craig Phillips

The Ruth and Clarence Mader Memorial Scholarship Fund has announced a Composition Competition for an Organ work to mark the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the Fund. The goal of the competition is to honor the Mader name through a work that will become a lasting staple of the organ repertoire.

Contestants are invited to submit a work of 8-12 minutes in duration, and based on the name RC MADER. Composers will be required to use the pitches: D C E A D E-flat and D-flat, notes derived from note names and solfege to represent the name MADER, including the initials for the first names of both Ruth and Clarence.

Ruth and Clarence Mader will always be an inspiration to those privileged to have known them. The Fund is a response by students, colleagues, family and friends to widespread expressions of appreciation for the high ideals and artistic accomplishments of Ruth and Clarence Mader.

The Composition Competition was launched in January 2021, with a deadline for submissions on December 17, 2021. The winner will receive a prize of $10,000, publication and a premiere performance of the work. Details of the premiere will be announced at a later time. The competition is open to residents of the United States (U.S. citizens, resident aliens, and international students residing in the U.S.) with no age limit. Compositions will be submitted electronically, and remain anonymous. Recordings, either live or via MIDI must also be submitted.

The Ruth and Clarence Mader Memorial Scholarship Fund is excited to sponsor this competition, as both the organ, and composition for the organ were such an important part of the Mader legacy. Our hope is that the winning composition will be an important and lasting tribute to their lives and work.
